THE INDUSTRIAL RELATIONS (AMENDMENT) BILL, 2015

Explanatory Note

(These notes form no part of the Bill but are intended only to indicate its general purport)

The purpose of this Bill would be to amend the Industrial Relations Act, Chap. 88:01 (hereinafter called “the Act”) to strengthen and improve the industrial relations system in Trinidad and Tobago by making the system more efficient, more effective and more expeditious from the recognition of the union to dispute settlement. There is also a need to create an independent dispute settlement process in the formation of the Conciliation and Mediation Service (“CAMS”) and to foster the independence of the Industrial Court.

Clause 1 of the Bill would provide for the title of the Bill.

Clause 2 of the Bill would allow for the Act to come into operation by Proclamation.

Clause 3 of the Bill would provide for the Act to have effect even though inconsistent with sections 4 and 5 the Constitution.

Clause 4 of the Bill would provide for the interpretation of the words “the Act” to mean the Industrial Relations Act.

Clause 5 of the Bill would provide for the definition of expressions used throughout the Bill.

Clause 6 of the Bill would generally delete the words “members” and “member” whenever they occur in Part I of the Act and substitute the words “Justices” and “Justice” respectively.

Clause 7 of the Bill would amend section 4 of the Act by deleting the words “by the President of Trinidad and Tobago who shall in every instrument of appointment” and substituting the words “in accordance with the Constitution”.

Clause 8 of the Bill would provide for the repeal of section 5 of the Act.

Clause 9 of the Bill would amend section 7 of the Act to empower the Court to hear and determine matters brought before it under the Act and other written laws and to impose fines up to a maximum of seventy-five thousand dollars for failure to comply with orders or awards.

Clause 10 of the Bill would provide for the insertion of a new section 22A which would spell out the qualifications of the Secretary and other officers of the Registration Recognition and Certification Board.

Clause 11 of the Bill would amend section 23 of the Act to provide for the composition of the Registration Recognition and Certification Board which will be dealing with applications for certification and recognition among other things.

Clause 12 of the Bill would provide for the changes in the quorum for meetings.

Clause 13 of the Bill would amend section 32 of the Act to provide for the determination of applications for recognition within six months of the date of application.

Clause 14 of the Bill would repeal and replace section 34(2) of the Act to provide for certification of a union as the recognized union by the Board once objections to a claim for recognition or there have been allegations of irregularities in the operation of claimant union has been answered satisfactorily.

Clause 15 of the Bill would amend section 35 of the Act by deleting the words “Part” and “Part IV” and substituting the words “Act” and “this Act” respectively.

Clause 16 of the Bill would amend section 40 of the Act by deleting the word “Part” and substituting the word “Act”.

Clause 17 of the Bill would amend section 41 of the Act by deleting the words “Board” whenever it occurs and “37(2)” and substituting the words “or Chairman as provided for in Part IIIA” and “or 42D” respectively.

Clause 18 of the Bill would amend the Act to insert provisions of a new Part IIIA to confer on the Chairman of the Registration Recognition and Certification Board, the power to grant short-term certification of recognized to majority unions.

Clause 19 of the Bill would amend Part V of the Act by deleting the word “Minister” and substituting the words “Chief Conciliator-Mediator of CAMS”.

Clause 20 of the Bill would amend the Act by deleting the requirement of a worker to be in good standing in his union. It also widens the definition of “employer” to include those persons who employs one or more worker in a domestic capacity. Additionally, it provides for persons not defined as “workers” under the Act to pursue rights matters under the disputes procedure of the Act, whilst increasing the statutory limit for bringing a matter from six months to two years.

Clauses 21, 22 and 23 of the Bill would provide for the decriminalization of the Act by removing terms of imprisonment and substituting them with fines. Additionally, persons who belong to trade unions, other organizations or office holders who take industrial action in the Health Service and who are found liable, will be fined as such matters are now triable at the Industrial Court.

Clause 24 of the Bill provides for the insertion of a new Part VA which makes it a duty for a recognized union to represent all workers of the bargaining unit which they represent, whether or not the worker is a member of the union, with the Court imposing sanctions on, or decertifying the union for such breaches. Part VB would provide for the establishment of a body corporate to provide independent conciliation and mediation service (CAMS).

Clause 25 of the Bill provides for the institution of prosecution by, or with the consent of the Director of Public Prosecutions, for persons in contravention of sections 69 and 70.

Clause 26 of the Bill would provide for the making of Regulations by the President of the Republic of Trinidad and Tobago, with the contravention of such Rules resulting in increased fines for the offence and for each day it continues. It will also provide for Regulations to be made for matters concerning persons employed by a householder in any capacity of a domestic nature.

Clause 27 of the Bill would, after the Act comes into operation, allow the Office of Economic Research to become more contemporary and efficient with the addition of the words “Legal” and “Relations” to its name. It also provides for inclusion of legal officers, labour economists and other public officers on its staff.

which is scheduled to be completed within five years of its commencement.

Bargaining unit appropriateness

42B.(1) The Chairman shall, on any application under section 42A, first determine the bargaining unit he considers appropriate in the circumstances and in so doing the Chairman shall have regard to—

- (a) the community of interest between workers in the proposed bargaining unit, including work location and methods and periodicity of payment therefor;
- (b) the nature and scope of the duties exercised by the worker in the proposed bargaining unit;
- (c) the views of the employer and the trade union concerned as to the appropriateness of the bargaining unit;
- (d) the historical development, if any, of collective bargaining in the industry or business to which the proposed bargaining unit belongs; and
- (e) such other matters as the Chairman may consider to be conducive to good industrial relations.

(2) In considering the appropriateness of a bargaining unit, the Chairman shall not be restricted by the terms of the application under section 42A(2) and may, notwithstanding such terms, determine the bargaining unit most appropriate for the workers of the employer in accordance with subsection (1).

Chairman to certify short-term projects

42C. (1) Notwithstanding sections 23 and 34(1), the Chairman shall certify as the recognized majority union, any trade union which he is satisfied has on the relevant date, the highest percentage, being not less than thirty-three and one-third per cent of the workers comprised in the appropriate bargaining unit as members in good standing.

(2) The Chairman shall determine an application for certification made under this Part within twenty-eight days of the receipt of the application.

Effect of short-term
certificate

42D. (1) A certificate issued under this Part shall have the effect of a certificate issued under Part III.

(2) Notwithstanding section 43, the Court may, subject to section 46, register any collective agreement negotiated by a recognized majority union certified under this Part for such period as deemed necessary.

Issue and contents of short-term
certificate

42E. (1) A The Chairman shall issue a certificate to the union and to the employer in every case in which he certifies a trade union as the recognized majority union.

(2) A certificate issued under this Part shall contain a statement of the following particulars:

- (a) the name of the employer and of the trade union which has been certified;
- (b) the category or categories, if any, of workers comprised in the bargaining unit;
- (c) the number of workers comprised in the bargaining unit at the relevant date;

(d) the name and duration of the project in respect of which the trade union is certified; and

(e) such other matters as may be prescribed.

Cancellation of short-term certification

42F. Members aggrieved by the representation of a union recognized under this Part, may petition the Court in accordance with Part VA to cancel a certificate of recognition granted under this Part or for any other relief as the Court may determine.

Treatment of short-term
projects

42G. For the purposes of the settlement of trade disputes, short-term projects shall be treated as essential services.”.

inserted

24. The Act is amended by inserting after Part V, the following Parts:

“PART VA

CANCELLATION OF CERTIFICATE OF RECOGNITION AND OTHER SANCTIONS FOR FAILURE TO REPRESENT A MEMBER OR WORKER

Duty to provide proper representation 70A. It shall be duty of every certified recognized majority union to properly represent every worker in every bargaining unit for which it is certified as the recognized majority union.

Petition for cancellation of recognition 70B. Subject to this Part, a trade union member or a worker of a designated bargaining unit aggrieved by the representation or non-representation of a recognized majority union may petition the Court to seek the cancellation of the certificate of recognition of the trade union or for such other sanctions as the Court deems fit on the grounds that the union has—

(a) failed to represent the member or worker of the bargaining unit; or

(b) been negligent in its representation of the member or worker of the bargaining unit.

Form of petition 70C.(1) Where there is a trade dispute and—

(a) the union has failed to give to its member or worker of the bargaining unit written reasons as to why it is not reporting the dispute within six months of the issue giving rise to the dispute; or

- (b) the time for reporting the dispute has expired without the union giving reasons or taking steps to report it; and
- (c) the dispute concerns the terms and conditions of employment of a member or a worker of a bargaining unit for which the trade union has recognized majority union status, the petition shall be signed by no less than twenty-five per cent of the members of the union or the workers of the bargaining unit.

(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), the Court shall not entertain a petition where, in the opinion of the Court—

- (a) the union is actively engaged in collective bargaining, conciliation and mediation in accordance with this Act;
- (b) the dispute has been certified as an unresolved dispute within the meaning of section 59;
- (c) strike or lock-out, whether or not in accordance with Part V, has been taken; or
- (d) the dispute is before the Court.

(3) Where there is a trade dispute within the meaning of this Act and—

- (a) the recognized majority union has failed to give the member or worker of the bargaining unit for which it has been certified as having recognition, written reasons as to why it is not reporting the dispute within six months of the issue giving rise to the dispute; or

(b) the time for reporting the dispute has expired—

(i) without giving reasons for not reporting; or

(ii) for taking steps to report the dispute; and

(c) the dispute concerns the rights of employment of a member or worker of the bargaining unit, the petition shall be signed by all of the members or workers of the bargaining unit who are aggrieved.

(4) A petition shall—

(a) be in the prescribed form;

(b) state the grounds for the petition; and

(c) be delivered to the Registrar of the Court.

Procedure upon receipt of petitions

70D. Where a petition has been received under this Part, the President of the Court may, notwithstanding Part V, invoke such procedure for settling the dispute by means of conciliation as he may consider advisable, except that where the President is satisfied that no useful purpose would be served by conciliation, he may refer the matter for hearing by the Court.

Powers of Court under this Part

70E. (1) Where a matter is referred for hearing by the Court under this Part, the Court shall make a determination on the matter not later than three months from the date of the referral of the matter.

(2) In accordance with the powers conferred under this Act, the Court may, in relation to any matter referred to it under this Part, make such order as it considers equitable and just.

(5) A member of the Council shall be paid such remuneration and allowances as are determined by the President.

(6) The remuneration and allowances payable under this section shall be a charge on the Consolidated Fund.

(7) The President may remove a member of the Council from office where he is satisfied that the member—

- (a) has been absent from meetings of the Council for a period longer than six consecutive months without the permission of the Council;
- (b) has become bankrupt or has compounded with his creditors;
- (c) is incapacitated by physical or mental illness; or
- (d) is otherwise unable or unfit to discharge the functions of being a member.

(8) The appointment, removal or resignation of a member of the Council shall be published in the Gazette.

Procedures of,
co-opting to and Committees of the Council

70H. (1) The Council shall determine its own procedures including the quorum necessary for its Meetings.

(2) The Council may co-opt any person to attend any particular meeting of the Council for the purpose of assisting or advising the Council, but a co-opted person shall not have any right to vote.

(3) The Council may appoint a committee to—

- (a) examine and report to it on any matter arising out of or connected with any of the functions of CAMS; or
- (b) assist it in its business and may, for that purpose, delegate such duties and powers as it may consider necessary to that committee.

(4) A committee appointed under subsection (3) shall consist of at least one member of the Council.

(5) Where persons not being members of the Council are members of a committee, the Council may, with the prior approval of the Minister, appoint them on such terms and at such remuneration as the Minister may approve.

(6) The Council may reject the report of a committee appointed under subsection (3)(a) or adopt it either wholly or with such modifications, additions or adaptation as the Council may think fit.

Functions of CAMS

70I. (1) The functions of CAMS shall be—

- (a) to promote the improvement of industrial relations and in particular to encourage the extension of collective bargaining and its development, where necessary, to reform the collective bargaining machinery including the timely negotiation and registration of collective agreements;
- (b) to propose draft regulations for the conduct of collective negotiations, including time limits, to ensure that agreements are registered during their contractual period;
- (c) to provide conciliation or mediation services subject to Part V to bring about a settlement of a trade dispute which exists, is reported or apprehended;

- (d) to provide conciliation or mediation services by a servant or officer known as a Conciliation or Mediation Officer or a person other than an officer or servant of CAMS appointed by the Council;
- (e) to provide general advice or guidance to employers, employers' organizations, workers and trade unions, and such advice or guidance as it thinks appropriate on matters concerned with industrial relations or employment policies after considering rulings of the Court and internationally acceptable principles of employment law and industrial relations and the Court may consider such general advice or guidance as evidence of good industrial relations practice in its determination of matters;
- (f) to publish such general advice and guidance on matters concerned with industrial relations and employment policies in the Gazette and in at least one daily newspaper circulating in Trinidad and Tobago;
- (g) to inquire, if it thinks fit, into any question relating to industrial relations in any particular industry or in any particular undertaking or part of an undertaking; and
- (h) subject to subsection (3), to publish the findings of an inquiry under this section together with any advice given by CAMS.

(2) A publication under section 70I(1)(f) shall be deemed to be a notice thereof to all employers, employers' organization, workers, employees and trade unions.

(3) CAMS shall only publish the findings of an enquiry where the publication is desirable for the improvement of industrial relations generally or in connection with the specific questions inquired into after due consideration of the views of the parties concerned, if it thinks fit.

(4) In the exercise of its functions, CAMS shall not be subject to directions from any person or authority.

CAMS may establish multiple offices in other locations

70J. (1) CAMS may maintain offices in such of the major centres of employment in Trinidad and Tobago, as it thinks fit, for the purpose of discharging its functions under this Act or any other written law.

Estimates of expenditure

70K. (1) CAMS shall, at least six months before the announcement of each financial year, submit to the Minister for his approval, estimate of expenditure in such form as the Minister may prescribe in accordance with GAAP.

(2) CAMS shall, at such time as the Minister directs, furnish him with any further information in relation to the estimates he may require.

(3) Subject to the provisions of the Constitution and the Exchequer and Audit Act, the estimates of expenditure, as approved by the Minister, shall be the expenditure budget of CAMS for the financial year to which it relates.

Financial year 70L. (1) The Financial year of CAMS shall be the period of twelve months beginning on the first day of October in any year to the thirtieth day of September in the following year, but the period from the date of commencement of the Act to the end of the September next following shall be deemed to be the first financial year.

(2) CAMS may, with the approval of the Minister with responsibility for finance, vary its financial year.

Accounts and audit 70M. (1) CAMS shall keep proper books of accounts and records in accordance with GAAP, of all moneys received and expended and shall record the matters in respect of which such sums were received and expended.

(2) Within three months after the end of the financial year, CAMS shall cause to be prepared in respect of that year—

- (a) a report setting out the activities of the Authority; and
- (b) financial statements prepared in accordance with GAAP and any other statement as required by the Minister with responsibility for finance.

(3) In instances where the standards included in GAAP are inappropriate or inadequate, the Treasury shall provide the appropriate instructions.

(4) The accounts of CAMS are public accounts for the purposes of section 116 of the Constitution.

(5) As soon as accounts of CAMS have been audited, the Auditor General shall submit his report in accordance with section 116 of the Constitution and forward a copy of the report to the Minister.

(6) Nothing in this section precludes the Auditor General or an Auditor engaged by the Board or the Minister with responsibility for finance from performing a management or comprehensive audit of the activities of CAMS.
