In accordance with Sections 7, 8 and 9 of the Freedom of Information Act, 1999 (FOIA), the Environmental Commission is required by Law to publish the following statements, which list the documents and information generally available to the public.

The FOIA gives members of the public –

1. A legal right for each person to access certain information held by the Environmental Commission;
2. A legal right for each person to have official information relating to him/herself amended where it is incomplete, incorrect or misleading;
3. A legal right to obtain reasons for adverse decisions made regarding an applicant's request for information under the FOIA;
4. A legal right to complain to the Ombudsman and to apply to the High Court for Judicial Review to challenge adverse decisions made under the FOIA.

SECTION 7 – STATEMENTS

Section 7(1)(a)(i) – Structure, Function and Particulars

Establishment of the Environmental Commission

The Environmental Commission was established by Section 81(1) of the Environmental Management Act, 2000, for the purpose of exercising the jurisdiction conferred upon it by that Act or by any other written law. The Commission was operationalised on October 30, 2000 with the appointment of the first cadre of Commissioners.

Vision Statement

The Environmental Commission, a superior court of record, will be known to all as a court characterised by excellence, which strives to attain justice for all through the rule of law. The Court will be easily accessible, using effective case management methodology, and information technology. The Court will be recognized as a leader in achieving sustainable development through its decisions.

311—Continued

Mission Statement

The Environmental Commission shall, in a fair, accessible, effective, and efficient manner, resolve disputes arising within its jurisdiction, impartially and consistently to protect the rights of citizens while being cognizant of the need for balancing of economic growth with environmentally sound practices.

Constitution of the Environmental Commission and Organizational Structure

The Judicial Arm of the Commission is supported by an Administrative Staff which, as at January 30, 2009, consists of nineteen (19) persons all of whom occupy Public Service Posts as well as two (2) contract positions. The Registrar, Mr. Andrew Dalip Jr. is the Administrative Head of the Registry. The Chairman of the Commission is Her Honor Sandra Paul.

The membership of the Commission currently comprises a full-time Chairman, a full-time Deputy Chairman and two (2) part-time Members. Provision is however made for a full-time Chairman and five (5) other Members, including a Deputy Chairman, each of whom may be appointed to serve in a full-time, part-time or periodic capacity. In accordance with the Environmental Management Act, 2000 His Excellency the President of the Republic of Trinidad and Tobago appoints Members of the Commission for a term of not less than three (3) years under such conditions of service as determined by the President. The Chairman and Deputy Chairman are required to be Attorneys-at-Law of not less than ten (10) years standing. The other Members are required to be appointed by the President from among such persons as appear to the President to be qualified by virtue of their knowledge of, or experience in environmental issues, engineering, natural sciences or the social sciences. The composition of the Commission is designed to ensure that the Commission is comprised of persons with qualifications, training and experience in both the legal and technical aspects of the complex environmental matters ventilated before the Commission.

The Organizational Chart of the Commission as at January 30, 2009 is contained herein at Appendix I.

Functions of the Environmental Commission

The functions of the Environmental Commission are a direct corollary of its specific jurisdiction under the Environmental Management Act, 2000. This is set out in Section 81(5) of that Act and includes jurisdiction to hear and determine:

- (a) Appeals from decisions or actions of the Environmental Management Authority (“EMA”) (as specifically authorized under the Environmental Management Act, 2000);

- (b) Applications for deferment of decisions made under Section 25 (for the EMA to undertake emergency response activities) or under Section 41 (to designate environmentally sensitive areas or environmentally sensitive species);
- (c) Applications by the EMA for the enforcement of any Consent Agreement or any final Administrative Order;
- (d) Administrative civil assessments;
- (e) Appeals from the designation of environmentally sensitive areas or environmentally sensitive species by the EMA;
- (f) Appeals from a decision by the EMA under Section 36 of the Environmental Management Act, 2000 to refuse to issue a Certificate of Environmental Clearance or to grant such Certificate with conditions;
- (g) Appeals from any determination by the EMA to disclose information or materials claimed as a trade secret or confidential business information under Section 23(3) of the Environmental Management Act, 2000;
- (h) Direct private party actions under Section 69 of the Environmental Management Act, 2000; and
- (i) Such other matters as may be prescribed by or arise under the Environmental Management Act, 2000 or any other written law where jurisdiction in the Commission is specifically provided.

Effects of Functions of the Environmental Commission on Members of the Public:

The work of the Environmental Commission impacts directly and indirectly on members of the public as well as future generations of citizens of the Republic of Trinidad and Tobago. The Commission in its judgements and orders elucidates the principles by which the EMA and members of the public are to be guided in seeking to comply with the Environmental Management Act, 2000 and the subsidiary legislation made thereunder. The Commission also has a statutory duty to encourage and promote the use of alternative dispute resolution, being any mechanism for resolving disputes other than by way of litigation.

Thus in the exercise of its functions the Commission helps to lay the foundation for a consensus based approach to the co-management of national environmental resources by the different stakeholders in society.

Section 7(1)(a)(v) – Procedure to be followed when accessing a document from the Environmental Commission

How to request information

General Procedure

The policy of the Environmental Commission is to answer all requests (both oral and written) for information. However, in order to exercise the rights conferred by the FOIA (for example the right to challenge a decision if your request for information is refused), you must make a request in writing. In order to access information that is not already available in the public domain, an application must be completed in the appropriate form, (“Request for access to Official Documents”), available at the Registry of the Environmental Commission or any Public Authority.

Addressing Request

To facilitate prompt handling of your request, please address it to the Designated Officer of the Environmental Commission. (See Section 7(1)(a)(vi)).

Details in Request

Applicants should provide details that will allow for ready identification and location of the records/documents that are being requested. If insufficient information is provided clarification will be sought from the applicant. If you are not sure how to write your request or what details to include, please communicate with our Designated Officer.

Request not handled under FOIA

A request under the FOIA will not be processed to the extent that it asks for information, which is currently available in the public domain, either from this public authority or from another public authority (for example brochures, pamphlets, Acts and Legal Notices etc.)

Responding to your Request

- Retrieving Documents

The Environmental Commission is required to furnish copies of documents only when they are in our possession or we can retrieve them from storage. Information stored in the National Archives or another storage center will be retrieved in order to process your request.

- Furnishing Documents

An applicant is entitled to copies of information we have in our possession, custody or power. We are required to furnish only one copy of a document. If we cannot make a legible copy of a document to be released, we may not attempt to reconstruct it. Instead, we will furnish the best copy possible and note its quality in our reply.

Please note we are not compelled to do the following:

- (a) Create new documents. For example, we are not required to write a new program so that a computer will print information in the format you prefer.
- (b) Perform research for you.

311—Continued

Time Limits

General

The FOIA sets certain time limits for us to decide whether to disclose the documents you have requested. If we fail to meet the deadlines, the FOIA gives you the right to proceed as if your request has been denied. We will try diligently to comply with the time limits, but if it appears that processing your request may take longer than the statutory limit, we will acknowledge your request and advise you of its status. Since there is a possibility that requests may be misaddressed or misrouted, you may wish to call or write to confirm that we have received the request and to ascertain its status.

Time Allowed

We will determine whether to grant your request for access to information as soon as practicable but no later than 30 days after the request has been made as required by Section 15 of the FOIA. If a decision is taken to grant access to the information requested, you will be permitted to inspect the documents or be provided with copies, if you so request.

Section 7(1)(a)(vi) – Officers in Environmental Commission are responsible for:

- (1) The initial receipt of and action upon notices under section 10;
- (2) Request for access to documents under section 13; and
- (3) Applications for corrections of personal information under section 36 of the FOIA.
