“The Heritage and Stabilisation Fund Act, 2007 created the Heritage and Stabilisation Fund (HSF) from 15th March, 2007. The HSF, which is denominated in US dollars, is not part of the Central Bank’s foreign exchange reserves. The provision of the foreign exchange for this Fund led to an amendment to the original accounts published for the Central Bank of Trinidad and Tobago for the period 15th March, 2007 to 24th March, 2010”.

GOVERNMENT OF THE REPUBLIC OF TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO
UPDATED PUBLIC STATEMENT 2009 OF
THE CARIBBEAN INDUSTRIAL RESEARCH INSTITUTE (CARIRI)

IN COMPLIANCE WITH SECTIONS 7, 8 AND 9 OF
THE FREEDOM OF INFORMATION ACT, 1999

In accordance with Sections 7, 8 and 9 of the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) 1999, the Caribbean Industrial Research Institute (CARIRI), is required by law to publish the following statements, which list the documents and information generally available to the public.

The Act gives members of the public:

1. A legal right for each person to access official documents (with exemptions) held by the Caribbean Industrial Research Institute.
2. A legal right for each person to have official information relating to him/herself amended where it is incomplete, incorrect or misleading.
3. A legal right to obtain reasons for adverse decisions made regarding an applicant's request for information under the FOIA.
4. A legal right to complain to the Ombudsman and to apply to the High Court for Judicial Review to challenge adverse decisions made under the FOIA.

Section 7 STATEMENTS

Section 7 (1) (a) (i)

THE FUNCTIONS AND STRUCTURE OF THE CARIBBEAN INDUSTRIAL RESEARCH INSTITUTE

The Caribbean Industrial Research Institute (CARIRI) was established by an Act of Parliament by the Government of Trinidad and Tobago in 1970 with assistance from the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP) and the United Nations Industrial Development Organization (UNIDO). The Institute is wholly owned by the Government of Trinidad and Tobago and provides technological services to private and public sector organizations locally and regionally.

The Institute's mission is:

"To advance the economic and social development of Trinidad and Tobago and other countries in the Caribbean Region by providing technical and technological support, creating and transferring technology to the producers of goods and services and maintaining a positive work environment that encourages employee commitment to the financial viability and success of the organization."

The Institute's major functions include:

- To provide technical and industrial services to public and private industrial enterprises;

- To collect and disseminate technical information;
- To undertake analytical work particularly in connection with quality of products;
- To provide physical (measurements) and materials testing services;
- To provide engineering services, including assistance with establishing production lines, prototype designs, and maintenance and repair problems;
- To undertake economic and technical feasibility studies, including marketing surveys, with a view to identifying bankable projects;
- To provide environmental monitoring, control and developmental activities.
- To advise the government on the formulation of specifications, the promulgation and application of industrial processes and practices and the preparation of industrial standards;
- To engage in industrial research programmes related to the needs of Trinidad and Tobago and the Caribbean region.

The Board of Directors is appointed by the President, the Republic of Trinidad and Tobago, and controls the overall direction of the Institute. CARIRI employs a workforce of approximately one hundred and fifty (150) persons and is headed by a Chief Executive Officer.

OPERATIONAL UNITS AND DEPARTMENTS

The Caribbean Industrial Research Institute operates from two (2) locations - UWI Campus, St. Augustine and Trincity West Industrial Estate, Macoya. The key focus areas are:

- Biotechnology

- Toxicology
- Air Monitoring
- Food Safety
- Food and Potable Water
- Effluent – both industrial and from domestic wastewater treatment plants
- Biodegradability
- Identification and quantification of microbial strains which have specific implications in air and water quality
- Pesticide Residue

Biotechnology

There continues to be a pressing need to tap the vast potential in the agro-processing sector. The main area of focus is therefore to provide general and laboratory based technology application/implementation to the food and agricultural sectors together with consultation on specific problems.

The areas concerned include:

- Product and Process Development
- Plant and Quality Audits
- Feasibility studies – technical feasibility and plant layout
- Troubleshooting
- Development and Implementation of Quality Management Systems
- Provision of technical assistance to entrepreneurs and small and medium scale processors in the agro-processing sectors
- Training in food production techniques
- Food Safety
- Contract Processing
- In-plant diagnostics aimed at improving food safety and food quality in food establishments

Section 7 (1) (a) (iv)

Literature available by subscription

At the present time this section is not applicable.

Section 7 (1) (a) (v):

Procedure to be followed when accessing a document from the Caribbean Industrial Research Institute.

Applicants may request information via telephone, e-mail or in person. However, in order to access the rights afforded under the FOIA, the request must be made in writing on the official form Request for access to Official Documents, for information not available in the public domain. These forms are available from the Designated Officer of CARIRI.

Requests must be addressed to the Designated Officer of CARIRI named in section 7 (1) (a) (vi)

The request must be accompanied by enough detail to facilitate locating the relevant document/s as efficiently as possible. In keeping with the provisions of the FOIA, the Designated Officer would render any assistance necessary in order to formulate the request.

If the requested documents are not those held by CARIRI, the applicant is advised to direct the request to the relevant authority.

The time frame for delivery of a document, if it exists or can be found, is established under the FOIA. If CARIRI fails to meet these deadlines, the FOIA gives applicants the right to proceed as if the request had been denied. CARIRI will diligently try to comply with the time limits, but if it appears that processing a request may take longer than the statutory limit, an applicant's request will be acknowledged and the applicant will be advised of its status. Since there is a possibility that requests may be incorrectly addressed or misrouted, an applicant may wish to call or write to confirm that the request has been received and to ascertain its status.

CARIRI will determine whether to grant your request for access to information and notify you of the decision as soon as practicable, but no later than 30 days after the day on which on which the request is duly made, as required by section 15 of the FOIA.

The FOIA Fees and Charges Regulations prescribe fees related to the search, retrieval and provision of documents. The applicant will be given access to the documents within seven working days of the receipt of payment of the relevant fee. The FOIA allows the applicant a refund of fees paid, in addition to access to the requested information, if CARIRI fails to provide the information within the seven day period.
