THE JUDGES SALARIES AND PENSIONS (AMENDMENT)
BILL, 2013

Explanatory Note

(These notes form no part of the Bill but are intended only to indicate its general purport)

The purpose of the Judges Salaries and Pensions (Amendment) Bill, 2013 is to amend the Judges Salaries and Pensions Act, Chap. 6:02 to provide for the periodic revision of the pension paid to retired Judges of the Supreme Court as well as a more favourable computation of pensions payable to retired Judges of the Supreme Court or their widows.

Clause 1 provides the short title of the Act, for which this is the Bill.

Clause 2 provides the interpretation provision.

Clause 3 seeks to amend section 3 of the Act to provide a new definition of “pensionable emoluments” to include salary and only specified allowances, and to insert some new definitions.

Clause 4 seeks to amend section 8 of the Act by substituting the words “one-three hundredths” for the words “one-three hundredths and sixtieth”.

Clause 5 seeks to insert a new section 8A to the Act to treat with the adjustment of pensions to which retired Judges are entitled in accordance with the amended section 8 of the Act as well as to provide for the periodic review of such pensions.

Clause 6 seeks to amend section 12 of the Act to provide for consequential amendments.

Clause 7 seeks to amend section 13 of the Act to provide for consequential amendments.

Clause 8 seeks to amend the Act to insert three new sections (14A, 14B and 14C) which seek to increase the amount of pension payable to the widow of a Judge and the widow of a Chief Justice, and to provide for the periodic review of such pension.

“Date of adjustment of pension

14A. Notwithstanding sections 12(1) and (2) and 13(1) and (2), whenever the salary or pensionable allowances of Judges are increased, the pension payable to the widow of a Judge (including the Chief Justice) if the widow is still living and entitled to a pension on the date when such increase takes effect, shall be recomputed as from that date by treating the pensionable emoluments of the Judge as the same for the purpose of the re-computation as they would have been had he on that date been still in office from which he retired or in which he died, as the case may be.

Adjustment of pension for widow of
Chief Justice

14B. (1) If the widow of a Chief Justice was still living and entitled to a pension under section 12(1) on the date when the amending Act came into force, the widow is entitled to have her pension adjusted as from that date by taking into account for that purpose—

- (a) the amendment of section 12(1) made by the amending Act; and
- (b) any increase in his pension to which the Chief Justice would have been entitled if he had been still living on the date when the amending Act came into force.

(2) If the widow of a Chief Justice was still living and entitled to a pension under section 12(2)(b) on the date when the amending Act came into force, the widow is entitled to have her pension adjusted as from that date by treating the pensionable emoluments of the Chief Justice as the same for the purpose of the adjustment as they would have been had the Chief Justice been living and in receipt of a pension on the date when the amending Act came into force.

Adjustment
of pension for widow of Judge

14C. (1) If the widow of a Judge was still living and entitled to a pension under section 13(1) on the date when the amending Act came into force, the widow is
